Julie Girardini: My work is influenced by the journey's we take in our lives. I am interested in how we travel from one phase of our life to another. Sometimes it involves a physical move, leaving one place and arriving at a new and alien place. How do we make it feel like home? When do we know we are ready to leave? Do we get stuck on concepts of safety and security, or do we honor the opportunity for growth?

This is symbolized through my use of iconic forms: boats, nests, pods...for me these forms hold the essence of where we are coming from, our history, but at the same time are all vessels of new beginnings.

Ken Girardini: After many years of 3D work in functional metal designs for the home, (furniture, lighting and accessories) I am returning to the arts, photography and painting. The combination of my experiences in many media has resulted in this body of work that is being well received in both galleries and by private collectors. Creating this work gives me the freedom to explore and constantly push the boundaries of what he wants to do with art.

*Ken also won a Maryland State Arts Council, Individual Artist Award in 2012 for his photo collage portrait series.
